THEY DISDAIN TO REPLY.

CROKER'S OUTBREAK IGNORED BY MESSRS. DALY, ROOT AND COCKRAN.

PROGRESS IN THE FIGHT FOR THE INDE PENDENCE OF THE JUDICIARY-LETTERS POUR INTO THE DOWNTOWN

HEADQUARTERS.

Although Richard Croker, contrary to the advice of his friends, is continuing his personal attack on Justice Daly and his supporters, none of those against whom his embittered assaults are directed will recede from the attitude of stlence which they have adopted. They refuse to give serious consideration to Mr. Croker's statements, obviously inspired by malice, or to enter into a verbal contention with the Tammany boss. In another interview, which was published yesterday, Mr. Croker charged Justice Daly with unduly favoring his friend. Richard M. Henry, in the distribution of receiverships and references, to the exclusion of other law-Mr. Croker insinuated further that Mr. Henry was made a Commissioner of the Dock Department by Tweed for considerations similar to which Mr. Croker alleges Justice Daly was made a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas.

Yesterday, when a Tribune reporter saw Justice Daly in his private room in the County Court House, he could not be induced to reply to Mr. Croker's latest outburst. "I have no reply to anything Mr. Croker says," was all he would say. Elihu Root and W. Bourke Cockran were similarly reticent.

The downtown headquarters of the Carnegie Hall Committee were opered yesterday morning. The quarters are at No. 100 Broadway, where the committee has been fortunate in securing a spacious room on the ground floor, capable of accommodating fully three hundred people at the daily meetings which are to be held. Desks line the walls at one end of the room for the committee which has been appointed to carry on a vigorous campaign against Croker's attempt to debauch the bench. The headquarters speedily attracted attention, and throughout the day were visited by large numbers of people, who proffered their services in helping forward the movement to maintain the integrity of the judiciary. One of the callers yesterday afternoon, after being informed how rapidly the work of the committee was being pushed forward. was heard to say: "I am delighted at the popu- GHERARDI DAVIS, WHO IS RUNNING FOR larity of this movement. Everywhere one goes he hears people talking about the judiciary issue and denouncing the attempt of Croker to lay profane hands on the sanctity of the bench."

Finance Committee was completed yesterday morning after a conference in the office of Jacob H. Schiff, treasurer of the committee, Five men were chosen to control the finances of the organization, but until their acceptances have been received their names will not be made public. Answers to the circular which was sent out on Tuesday night to the lawyers and citizens who signed the declaration in favor of Justices Daly and Cohen, asking if they would address meetings and otherwise give their assistance, began to pour in yesterday. Almost every reply stated that the writer would not only give his own services, but would invite the aid of others, and do all in his power to help the good cause. It is apparent that the clients of the 3,600 lawyers who have signed the declaration include a large number of persons of high standing politically and socially and in the busiess community. TAMMANY CONTRACT COMES HIGH.

BALLOT PRINTING GIVEN AWAY WITHOUT COMPETITION TO A FAVORED FIRM-COURTS MAY LOOK INTO

A characteristic instance of the methods now being employed by the Tammany administrators of this city has come to light. The Tribune briefly announced yesterday that the Police Board had awarded the contract for the printing of the official hallots to the Martin B. Brown Company, of No. 45 Park Place. There is an interesting story behind the award of this contract.

THE LATEST JOB.

The Tammany Board of Estimate has this year appropriated $14,000 for the printing and distributing of the ballots. Last year the printing of the ballots cost $16,000, the work being done by the Wynkoop-Hallenbeck-Crawford Company, of No.
41 Pearl-st. This company is controlled by Republicans, while the proprietors of the Martin B. | publican candidate for Governor, at the head of the Brown Company are Democrats.

At present only about 2,000,000 ballots have been ordered for this year, at a cost of $9.46 a thousand, the total amount being over $18,000. But nobody who knows anything about elections in this city believes that this quantity will be sufficient. According to the contract there are to be 1,513,000 ballots for the entire city, or about 1,000 for each election district, with $78,250 sample ballots. When it is remembered that many thousands of sample ballots are distributed by each political party, while thousands of the regular ballots are spoiled.

Several other vacancies were also filled by indorsing the Republican nominees. The ticket is nearly ing the Republican nominees. At present only about 2,000,000 ballots have been while thousands of the regular ballots are spoiled MCULLAGH GETS A BATCH OF WARRANTS. by voters on Election Day, and that it is always case of emergency, it will be seen that the number called for is an exceedingly moderate one. and that it is practically certain that a second order will have to be given before election. The most important fact in the case, howeveis that the contract for the work was not offered for public competition, as directed by the charter, which provides that all contracts involving an ex-

The charter also provides that "emergency work" may be let out by contract without bids, with the sepreval of the Municipal Assembly and the Mayor. Mayor Van Wyck signed the resolution passed by the City Council, permitting the Police Board to let the contracts for printing the Police Board to let the contracts for printing the ballots and putting up the polling booths, without advertising for bids, immediately after it had been passed. It is not probable that this action will be allowed to pass unquestioned. The Wyrkoop-Hallenbeck-Crawford Company lid the entire printing last year for $16.000. Some time ago the company gave notice to the Police Board that it was will-last to do the work again this year for the same last to do the work again this year for the same porter yesterday, and appeared most indignant porter yesterday, and appeared most indignant porter yesterday, and appeared most indignant about the matter. He would not say positively whether or not his company would take any legal measures to compet the authorities to show cause why the contract had not been advertised and awarded to the lowest bidder. TAMMANY MEN DODGE IT

CONGRESS CANDIDATES AFRAID OF THE MONEY QUESTION.

THE REPUBLICANS, HOWEVER, ARE ALL AGAINST

FREE SILVER-SOME INTERESTING REPLIES. Efforts to get at the views of Republican and Tammany candidates for Congress in New-York County districts regarding free silver or sound money have developed several striking contrasts. All the Republican candidates are outspoken, while the Tammany candidates dodge every time. Following are the replies given by candidates in several districts, in brief:

VIIITH DISTRICT.

JOHN MURRAY MITCHELL, Republican-All my friends know that I am uncompromisingly for sound money and against free silver.

DANIEL J. RIORDAN, Tammany-I don't believe in crossing a bridge before I come to it, and I haven't studied the question.

IXTH DISTRICT.

JOHN STIEBLING, Republican—I'm for sound noney and against free silver. I would never vote for a free-silver bill.

THOMAS J. BRADLEY. Tammany—I am for my organization, for whatever it wants, no matter what or when or how. Silver is not a paramount issue in this campaign. The organization is for fixing State affairs.

XTH DISTRICT.

ELIJAH M. FISHER, Republican—I believe in being honest in all one does. I don't believe in robbing any one, and I think that a dishonest act will bring its own reward. I'm against free silver and I'm against the Teller resolution; I'm for sound money from the ground up.

AMOS J. CUMMINGS, Tammany—The question is an embarrassing one now, and I do not care to be quoted.

I shall do everything in my power to defeat it. consider the movement in favor of free silver one of the most dangerous issues which we have to meet, and I shall never swerve from my determination to do all in my power to make such a measure impossible.

candidates in the XIth and XIIIth districts, are outspoken sound-money advocates. Congressman outspoken sound-money are didate for re-election in the Xith District, is a rabid free-silverite, but shies the money question in the present campaign, while Jefferson M. connected with that office for several years, and was admitted to the bar in 1832, after being graduated at the Columbia Law School, in this city. Mr. Davis has since been in the active practice of law, and has a valuable practice. He was at one time in partnership with William Cary Sanger, but time in partnership with William Cary Sanger, but has for several years been in business by himself. He has always been an active Republican, and much interested in Republican politics in this city. He lived in the XXVII Assembly District for several years, where he was engaged in politics, as he has been for the list year in the XXVIIIh Assembly District. He is a member of the Union League and Republican clubs, and also of the XXVIIIh Assembly District Republican Club.

ORIGIN OF THE CUBAN DEBT.

A PLAIN STATEMENT OF THE "BENEFITS"

FOR WHICH IT WAS INCURRED. To the Editor of The Tribune.

Sir: A daily newspaper of this city has published a telegram from Paris to the effect that Spain would be content should the United States or free Cuba guarantee the debts contracted prior to 1895, together with the 6 per cent Cuban bonds of 1886 and the $34,000,000 of 5 per cent Cubas of November, 1800, arguing that "these debts were largely contracted either to meet deficits in the colonial budgets or for local public works." I beg The Tribune to allow me a small space to state as briefly as possible origin of the so-called Cuban debt. The data, partly translated, partly abridged, are taken from a remarkable pamphlet published by Rafael M. Merchan in Bogota in the year 1896, under the title of "Cuba; Justification of Her War of Independence."

In 1890 the Spanish Government was ignorant of the amount of the Cuban debt. Senor Fable, then Minister of the Colonies, admitted this in the Senate on March 28 of that year, and he explained his ignorance by saying that "bonds have been issued which were not genuine, which were not legitimate, and which have succeeded in being converted."

In the middle of the year 1892 Romero Robledo, then Minister of the Colonies, stated that the Cuban debt amounted to $173,262,200. The population of Cuba being 1,631,687, according to the census of 1887, this gave a proportion Second Brigade—4th Virginia Infantry, 49th Iowa Infantry, 6th Missouri Infantry.

Of more than $106 a head. But besides being exfantry, 6th Missouri Infantry. cessively burdensome, the debt is in its very origin unjustifiable.

The first item goes back as far as 1841. By an agreement signed at Madrid on February 17. 1834, Spain bound herself to recognize in favor of the United States a perpetual debt of 5 per cent annual interest, and being unable to carry out her engagement it was provided by a royal order of April 2, 1841, that the Treasury of Cuba should in future cover said interest, which on a principal of $510,000 amounts to $28,500. The debt had nothing to do with the progress of the island; it arose from damages suffered by American citizens during the South American wars for independence.

Perez Castafieda in a speech delivered in the Spanish Senate on June 24, 1891, said: "The debt of Cuba was created in 1864 by a simple issue of $3,000,000, and it now amounts to the fabulous sum of $175,000,000. What originated the Cuban debt? The wars of Santo Domingo, of Peru and of Mexico. But are not these matters which concern Spain? They certainly concern the whole of Spain. For what reason must Cuba pay that debt?" (We must bear in mind that it is a Spaniard who made this statement.) Perez Castafieda, however, forgot an item, to wit, that part of the Cuban debt which originated through "the advances made to the Treas-ury of Spain during the last Carlist wars."

The debt has gone on increasing, although ury of Spain during the last Carlist wars."

The debt has gone on increasing, although from INS up to June 30, 1891, the sum of 8115, 336,304 had been paid for interest and redemption as stated in "El Globo," of Madrid, under date of October 27, 1891, Señor Perez Castañeda has demonstrated that the conversion of a part of the debt effected in 1890 or 1891 has imposed in the Callan Tenantry. the Cuban Treasury, owing to the ineptitude of Minister of the Colonies, Señor Fablé, a on of 850,232,500, in which appears the in-t of $20,400,000, a part of a loan nego-t in order to call in the depreciated notes tiated in order to call in the depreciated notes of the Spanish Bank of Havana, and which, in stead of being at once applied to its proper pur-pose, was granted by way of loan to the Bank of Spain, in Madrid, for some months, in order o save it from a grave crisis.
